

Jenny Thompson has been fashioning her distinctive style since she was a little girl growing up in the heart of the South. At the age of fourteen, she fell in love with beautiful hand-carved beads and produced a "Tin Cup" style necklace years before Rene Russo would launch the trend.

Using her mom's home studio, Jenny began making beautiful one-of-a-kind creations for gifts. Her designs became an instant hit among friends and family, leading to her first jewelry show at age 22, which laid the groundwork for distribution throughout the Southeast.

With a focus on color and patterning, each Theodosia piece is a true work of art brought to life by Jenny's love for unusual color combinations - inspiration that stems from her background in art history and deep love of expressionist paintings. Jenny's eclectic sense of style and exquisite taste in materials breathe a one-of-a-kind "chic Victorian" flare to each design. "It's easy to explain", she says. "I know what I love, and I love what I do ? it shows in my work." Her clients are quick to admit their Theodosia pieces are true showstoppers and perfect for completing a unique, yet sophisticated look. Theodosia is sold exclusively in fine stores from Aspen, Colorado, to St. Simons, Georgia.
