CORPORATE PARTNERS

Can Sponsor Public Events

Corporate Partners are eligible to sponsor one or more major annual public events, art exhibits, or educational programs and receive extensive marketing benefits, beginning at the $2,500 level ($5,000 level for Cool Summer Evenings and Nights of a Thousand Candles).

Diggin' It - Spring Garden Festival

Brookgreen's first festival of the year held in late March features top gardening experts in the Southeast and Brookgreen's horticulture staff presenting talks and demonstrations with advice on gardening in the Southern coastal region.

Cool Summer Evenings

On selected evenings, mid-June to mid-August, members and visitors gather on the lawn to enjoy concerts under the shade of centuries-old Live Oaks.

Fall Concert Series

This four-night concert series in September presents tributes to legendary groups such as the Beatles, the Eagles, and the Bee Gee's. Local residents and visitors to the Grand Strand enjoy an unparalleled musical experience in a beautiful garden setting.

Harvest Home Weekend

Two full days of entertainment and activities for the entire family. Seasonal programs that are sure to capture the imaginations of children and adults alike include everyone's favorite scarecrow-building contest, hayrides, and pumpkin painting.

Nights of a Thousand Candles

Brookgreen's premier festival of lights was named one of the 'Top 20 Events' by the Southeastern Tourism Society and 'Top 10' by TripAdvisor®. Thousands of hand-lit candles and holiday lights glow as musicians perform throughout the gardens. A wide variety of live entertainment performances and dining options are provided each evening. These are nights to remember always!

Art Exhibitions - Changing indoor exhibitions of sculpture and other works of art are on view throughout the year in the Rainey Sculpture Pavilion.

Creative Education Programs - Annual programs, such as exhibits, lectures, and performances during Black History Month, and Gullah Gullah Days, are scheduled each year.

CORPORATE PARTNERS

Are Eligible to Host Private Events

A team of creative and experienced professionals will assist you in planning exceptional private events at Brookgreen Gardens, including meetings, retreats, client receptions, holiday parties, and employee picnics.

The Russell Holliday Cottage

Formerly a Southern Living Showcase Home, this premier rental site is ideal for gatherings inside and out. Situated beside Jessamine Pond, under a canopy of live oaks and pines, the cottage features elegant design elements with original art, sculpture, and plants; a spacious screened porch with a grand fireplace; and an outdoor brick patio with a generous lawn area for larger events.

Huntington Sculpture Garden

This formal garden space can hold events for up to 600 guests under its historic live oaks in the evenings when Brookgreen Gardens is closed to the public.

E. Craig Wall, Jr. Lowcountry Center

This complex features a flexible, multi-purpose auditorium with a seating capacity of 90 guests for lunch or dinner, and up to 120 guests in a theatre-style setting. Its beautiful open-air courtyard, which is filled with wildlife sculpture and native plantings, offers a relaxing alternative for casual receptions for up to 200 guests when Brookgreen Gardens is closed to the public.

Pavilion Restaurant

With a capacity of 80 guests for a seated dinner or reception, Brookgreen Gardens' premier restaurant features floor-to-ceiling windows that overlook the live oaks and sculptures across the lawns. An adjacent patio provides an additional area for entertaining.

Frank and Gurdon Tarbox Welcome Center Conference Room

Located at the entrance to Brookgreen Gardens, this flexible conference room has a seating capacity of 70 guests. It is available for private meetings, corporate retreats, and social functions both during the day, when Brookgreen Gardens is open to the public, and after-hours.

Plentiful Options

There are many additional spaces throughout Brookgreen Gardens for functions, including those that can accommodate up to 600 guests, intimate outdoor garden rooms, and unique natural settings. For additional information, availability, and reservations, please call 843-235-6017.
